[Seeing things in a better light]

The new AuraFlash 700 is the only portrait light in the world with the pedigree of a Motion Picture Academy Award, as well as a Television Emmy Award.

AuraFlash 700 is a 3000Ws, integrated flash head and reflector system which adapts to most professional studio flash packs without the need for speed rings or other easily lost or breakable parts.

Extreme softness yet realistic depth of image, perfect for digital image capturing.

Up to 100% increase in light output over other soft light devices with the same power unit plus a bright 650w, fan-cooled model lamp.

Extremely wide (120°C), exceptionally even light coverage.

Shadow area and transition edge has such a high degree of detail that little or no fill light is necessary, making AuraFlash quick and easy to set up, whatever your lighting systems experience.
